<http://www.library.coleurop.pl/catalogue.htm>

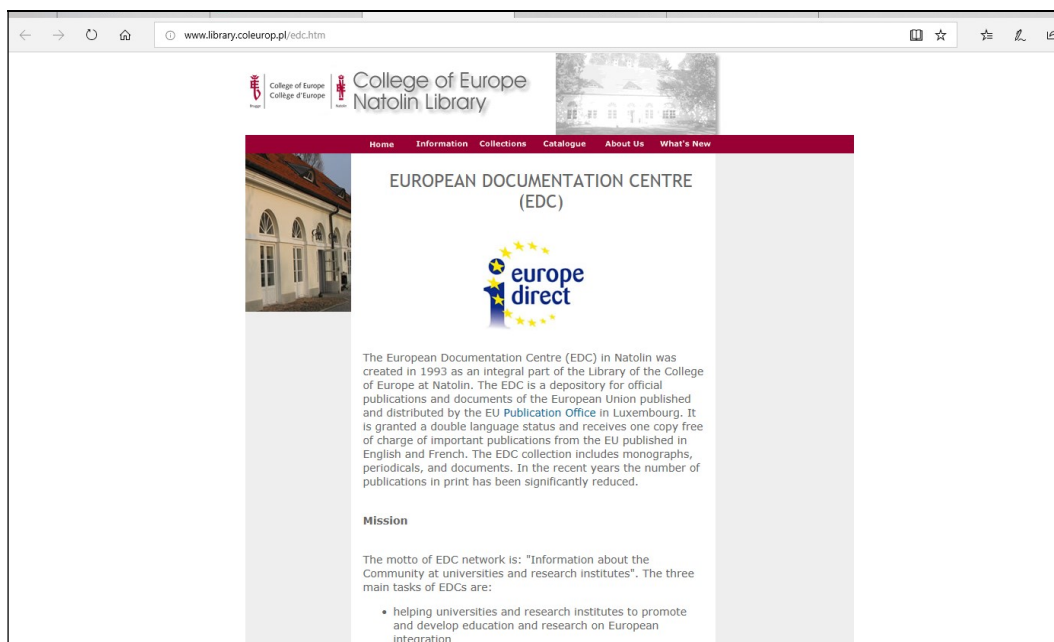

The screenshot shows the homepage of the College of Europe Natolin Library Catalogue. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links for Home, Information, Collections, Catalogue, About Us, and What's New. The main heading is "CATALOGUE". Below this, a text block explains that in spring 2004, the library began implementing the integrated library system Horizon produced by SirsiDynix. A major part of the system is the catalogue (Horizon Information Portal) which contains detailed bibliographic records for all Library documents. There are two links for manuals: "Horizon Information Portal Manual (PDF)" and "How to use your Library Account (PDF)". A note asks users to report any problems or errors that may appear in the catalogue. At the bottom, there is a red button labeled "Library catalogue".

The screenshot shows the search interface of the Horizon Information Portal. The URL in the browser is "hip.coleurop.pl/ipac20/ipac.jsp?profile=". The page has a navigation menu with links for Catalogue, My Account, Website, and Electronic resources. Below the menu, there are search options: Search, Browse, Advanced, and History. The main heading is "Basic Search". Below this, there is a search form with the following fields: General, Author, Title, Series, Subject - Eurovoc: French, Subject - Eurovoc: English, Subject - Eurovoc: Polish, Journal Title, Table of Contents, and ISBN. At the bottom, there is a footer with the text "Search the library catalog on Facebook or on your mobile phone!", "Horizon Information Portal 3.23_6390", "powered by SirsiDynix", and "© 2001-2013 SirsiDynix. # European Documentation Centre - <http://www.library.coleurop.pl/edc.htm>

The screenshot shows the European Documentation Centre (EDC) page. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links for Home, Information, Collections, Catalogue, About Us, and What's New. The main heading is "EUROPEAN DOCUMENTATION CENTRE (EDC)". Below this, there is a logo for "europe direct". A text block explains that the EDC in Natolin was created in 1993 as an integral part of the Library of the College of Europe at Natolin. The EDC is a depository for official publications and documents of the European Union published and distributed by the EU Publication Office in Luxembourg. It is granted a double language status and receives one copy free of charge of important publications from the EU published in English and French. The EDC collection includes monographs, periodicals, and documents. In the recent years the number of publications in print has been significantly reduced. Below this, there is a section titled "Mission" with the motto of the EDC network: "Information about the Community at universities and research institutes". The three main tasks of EDCs are:

- helping universities and research institutes to promote and develop education and research on European integration
